

Pricing Sizes

1. Use estimation to find out which size is cheaper per ounce (if you're stuck, you can use your calculator):. a 20 oz. bottle of soda that costs $0.99 or a six-pack of 12 oz. cans of the soda that costs $3.99.
2. Find the price per ounce for a 128 oz. jug of milk that costs $3.19.
3. Find the price per ounce for an 8 oz. can of energy drink that costs $1.99.

Answers: 1) the bottle is cheaper per ounce (about $.05 per ounce vs. about $.055 per ounce) 2) about $.025 per ounce 3) about $.25 per ounce